“Revel Social would like to thank Omega Protective Services for their hard work and diligence. They've done a great job securing our door with catching fake ids and paraphernalia. They work well with our staff and management for events, and go a step beyond in helping with other tasks we ask of them. Thank you Omega!”

Jay Patel - Owner, Revel Social, Bethlehem, PA

“Omega Protective services have been protecting our establishment for almost two years. We are a very busy late-night bar as well as a full eatery/pub. We require Omega for our late-night bar crowd to help keep the peace. They do an excellent job providing us with a full security team till 2 am. They are very organized and are trained to deal with any situation. They use their best judgment when it comes to all situations. We are very happy to have them working for us and protecting our establishment. We can trust that they will do an excellent job and keep our establishment safe no matter what. They care about the job they do, and they care about our establishment which is very important. I know the staff and customers are safe with Omega Protective Services working for us!”
